

RISHMA MALIK – Producer

Rishma@rishmamalik.com

Rishma Malik is a multitalented producer, storyteller and communicator with over fifteen years of diverse experience in film and television. Producing credits include award winning short film "Rosie Takes The Train" which won a Gold REMI award at the Worldfest Houston Film Festival in 2012 and a CSC award for cinematography. She has also produced several music videos for artists such as Blake Shelton, Delerium, The Barenaked Ladies and Hunter Valentine. Rishma began her professional career as a versatile television host and on-air reporter with production expertise in Canadian and International TV programs such as Chum Television's "City Pulse" and Asia's number one music channel "Channel V".

PRODUCER CREDITS

- "Nowhere To Run" (2014). Music Video for Hunter Valentine.
- "The Pulse" (2013). Music Video for Hunter Valentine.
- "Days Turn into Nights" (2012). Music Video for Kreesha Turner & Delerium.
- "Rosie Takes The Train" (2011) Short Film Written & Directed by Stephen Scott.
Winner of Gold Remi at Worldfest Houston International Film Festival, Official Selection Sedona Film Festival and Canadian Film Fest.
- "International Indian Film Academy Awards" (2011). Producer and Freelance On-air Journalist. Coordinated with cameraperson and series director to provide footage for the South Asian programming of the red carpets and interviews.
- "Home" (2009). Music Video for Blake Shelton.
- "The World Is Yours To Change" Documentary (2008). Also Directed.
- "Canadian Cancer Society PSA" (2006). Directed by Dawn Wilkinson.
- "The Meeting Rivers" (2005) Music Video. Also Co-Directed.